

CHORD ENGINEERING
ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Chord Engineering Ltd are constantly aware of all environmental issues associated within the electrical contracting industry.

It is the policy of the company that all installations are compliant to all items relating to environmental issues, with respect to the selection and installation of environmental friendly materials, i.e. low energy lamps and luminaires.

The environmental issue relating to the disposal of redundant materials is carried out to comply with waste management regulations and so far as it is reasonably practicable, offered for reclamation, especially where fluorescent lamps and control gear are concerned.

Any items concerning the disposal of hazardous wastes would be included within the Health and Safety Risk Assessments, which are formulated with each particular project and are implemented as required.
